

SENTENCE 12 NAZIS TO DIE

Shot To Death

Police are investigating the deaths of Alice Krone Patterson, 20, shown above, and Donald Thorne, 20, students at Ohio State university, found shot to death in a wooded ravine two blocks from the university. Miss Patterson was the daughter of Professor Allen Patterson, until last year a member of the Ohio State faculty. According to friends, Miss Patterson had been dating Thorne about a year. There was no hint of a quarrel.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

When it comes to raising tomatoes, Dr. James M. Blackwood, of East Washington street, takes a back seat to no one. Pa Newc witnessed a large box of tomatoes that the doctor had raised on his farm and discovered some that would tip the scales well over the three pound mark.

With Halloween a month away, yet Pa Newc has discovered numerous little tricks about the city well "masked" hiding behind the corner pole and jumping out at unwary pedestrians trying to scare them. Seemingly no plans as yet have been made for a community celebration with the old fashioned mummers parade.

In his travels about the city, Pa Newc has missed his annual glimpse of neighborhood women standing about the large iron cauldron stirring apple butter as has been the custom in pre-war years. Evidently the sugar situation will prevent the custom this year.

While temperature reports were around 35 degrees in some parts of Lawrence County this morning, rain which developed during the night prevented frost which had been scheduled, Pa. Newc is informed.

As yet, no signs stating that the newly improved Taylor street, is a spur route for Route 422 have appeared. Perhaps more out of town truckers and motorists would use the route if they knew it existed. Many have already discovered the route and are using it to advantage.

Despite numerous warnings and threat of punishment, some housewives of the city still insist on burning fallen leaves on the amenite street in front of their home. They fail to realize that the fire melts the material which holds the gravel in place.

One week from today, New Castle will play host to the State Sabbath School Convention, when it begins its annual meeting at the Scottish Rite Cathedral. The daily sessions will continue until Friday, October 11. A need still exists for rooms to accommodate the delegates to the conference.

Detour marks are gradually disappearing from highways in the local vicinity, a perusal of the new detour bulletin for the current period, issued by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, reveals.

Legion Hears Call To Fight Communism

National Legion Convention Gets Message From Army, Navy And F.B.I. Leaders

HUGE PARADE IS FEATURE OF DAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—(INS)—American Legionnaires prepared to launch their biggest offensive in Legion history against communism today as keynote speakers sounded the call for a strong national defense and for eternal vigilance against "isms."

Actual national convention deliberations marked time, however, as the Legionnaires put on a mighty display of patriotism and manpower—today's gigantic 16-hour convention parade.

One hundred thousand Legionnaires, veterans of two world wars, joined thousands of men still in army, navy and marine uniforms in displaying love of country and peace back by a nation ever-ready to defend democracy.

The prelude to the mighty spectacle was sounded yesterday as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz and Air Force Commander Gen. Carl Spaatz warned that the price of peace and liberty is eternal vigilance.

Asks War On Communism
FBI Director John Edgar Hoover joined with the military leaders by asking the Legion to wage relentless war against communists boring in within.

Just before Hoover spoke, National Legion Commander John Stalle of Illinois termed communism "the present day danger to our democracy" and flayed certain labor leaders and educators for "swallowing a brand of socialistic appeasement."

In his attack on communism, the FBI director declared that communists have lulled many Americans into a feeling of false security. Hoover charged:

"Communist labor leaders have sparred for time in their labor deliberations to refer matters of policy to communist party headquarters for clearance. In fact, resolutions have been delayed and contemplated."

Street Cars And Buses Are Halted In Columbus, O.

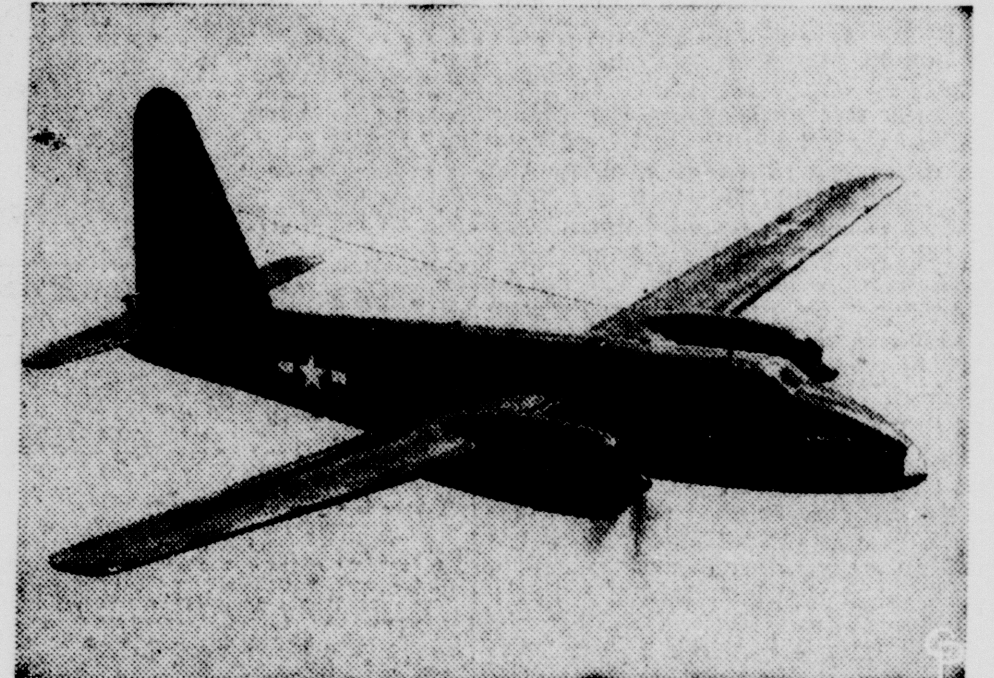

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 1.—(INS)—All street car, trolley coach and bus service halted in Ohio's capital early today as six hundred employees of the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric company went on strike.

The more than four hundred thousand residents of Franklin county were left without public transportation except for taxicabs and a suburban bus line.

The CIO-Transport Workers' union put the strike into effect promptly at the deadline of 12:01 a. m. when a last-minute, five-hour negotiating session between company and union officials failed to reach an agreement on a new contract. The conference had been arranged by Mayor James A. Rhodes and was conducted by U. S. Labor Conciliator H. J. Montoney at the company offices.

Police reported that no violence occurred as union members placed picket lines at the company's five car barns and garages. Street cars and buses on the streets at the time completed their runs and then were laid up.

Navy Plane Makes World Flight Record

(BULLETIN)
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 1.—(INS)—The Navy's "Truculent Turtle" touched ground at Fort Columbus at 12:27 P. M. (EST) today to end its record-breaking 11,237-mile flight from Perth, Australia.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Comdr. Thomas C. Davies, piloting the Navy's "Truculent Turtle" to a new distance flight record, radioed today for weather reports at Morgantown, W. Va., and Washington, indicating he may try to stretch his non-stop jump beyond Columbus, Ohio.

Announcement of Davies' request for weather information was made by the navy which added unofficially that "good tail winds" were reported over Ohio.

Earlier, Davies had advised officials tracking the twin-engine patrol bomber's flight from Perth, Australia, that he planned to land at Columbus shortly after noon, Eastern Standard Time.

Breaks Record
The Lockheed Neptune patrol ship already had cracked the world distance flight record set last November by an Army B-29 when it flew 7,916 miles from Guam to Washington.

Throughout last night and early today reports—and lack of reports—from the "Turtle" and its crew of (Continued on Page Two)

Paralyzing Effects Of Pittsburgh Power Strike Are Spreading

Shakeup May Aid Settlement Of Power Strike

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—(INS)—A shakeup in the negotiation committee of the Duquesne Light Company's Independent Union today was seen as a possibility of hastening settlement in the paralyzing strike that has gripped industrial Pittsburgh for the eighth successive day.

Union President George Mueller gave no reason for replacing the four men who had been through two months of almost continuous negotiations with him other than "it's union strategy."

At the same time federal labor conciliators were scheduled to hold more sessions with both company and union officials in an attempt to break the deadlock.

Lavengood, candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs. A reception for voters will be held in The Castleton hotel between four and six o'clock. Local candidates will also be present.

There will be no speaking program, merely a reception at which time voters will have an opportunity of meeting the candidates.

Weatherman Says Frost For Tonight

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—(INS)—There'll be frost on the pumpkin tonight. That's the word from Pittsburgh's Weatherman Richard P. MacConnell.

Originally, MacConnell predicted frost for last night but said last night's unexpected rain prevented the frost from forming.

Doctor Killed; Two Wounded In Denver Hotel

DENVER, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Denver detectives today sought to piece together details of a wild shooting affair in the famed Ship's Tavern of the Brown Palace hotel in which an Idaho doctor was killed and two other patrons wounded.

The dead man was Dr. James K. Mullen, 26, of Pocatello, who had just arrived in Denver to join the faculty of the Colorado university school of medicine.

Dr. Roy A. Green, president of Colorado A. & M. college at Fort Collins, was shot in the shoulder and Philip Van Slyke, 26, of Salt Lake City was wounded in the hand.

Apparently Went Berserk
Witnesses said the shots were fired by a man who was identified as a 34-year-old former marine and now a policeman at Grand Junction, Colo.

Authorities said Smith, who was jailed after a struggle with patrons and police as he attempted to flee, came to Denver for a medical check-up at Pitzsimons general hospital.

Detective Sgt. Charles J. Burns said Smith apparently went berserk as he sat at the bar during the crowded late-evening cocktail hour. He fired at least four shots before he was finally subdued with a blow on the head with a bottle.

Convention Of Miners Opens

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 1.—(INS)—More than 2,500 delegates from 24 states and Canada were on hand today for the opening of the week-long biennial convention of the United Mine Workers of America, A. F. of L.

Much of the steam of the meeting has been dispersed by the enforced absence of the mine workers' leader, John L. Lewis, who underwent an appendix operation in Washington last week and is missing his first UMW convention since 1906.

Presiding is John J. O'Leary, Pittsburgh, international vice-president of the union, which numbers some 500,000 members.

Highlight of today's session will be the appearance of A. F. of L. President (Continued on Page Two)

The judgment was placing Goering in the shadow of the gallows, but he kept his earphones on to receive the grim words.

"The enormity of his record," said Sir Geoffrey, "discloses no excuses for this man."

Goering made his only gesture when the justice said he had admitted all crimes. The defendant slowly shook his head.

Anderson Fails To Grant Suspension Of Meat Ceiling

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(INS)—The meat industry again pinned its hopes for freedom from price controls on the decontrol board today after Agriculture Secretary Anderson failed to grant a suspension of ceilings.

Anderson scotched a rumor of impending decontrol when he included cattle, sheep and hogs on his October list of agricultural commodities in short supply. Decontrol on meat would have been automatic had he left them off the list.

Items Deleted
Only items deleted from the October list were oat cereals, canned corn, canned fruits, fruit juices and nectars, fresh and frozen salmon, wet and pressed sugar beet pulp and rum, cordial, liqueurs and alcoholic specialties.

Price controls on those items are cancelled at once. The meat industry is basing little hope on any further action toward (Continued on Page Two)

New Maritime Strike Develops On Both Coasts

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(INS)—A new maritime strike got underway on all coasts today after a 16-hour government peace party failed to bring agreement on the demands of 25,000 licensed merchant marine officers.

Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach and his aides wearily abandoned their desperate efforts to avert the "tragedy" of another tieup of American shipping at 4 a. m. (EST) when it became obvious that a settlement would not be achieved in time to prevent the men from leaving their ships.

Goes Into Effect
The strike call of the CIO Marine Engineers had gone into effect automatically at midnight last night and at the same hour the AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots union instructed members to carry out a "no contract—no work" policy.

Negotiations will be resumed later today. A labor department spokesman said an attempt will be made to set up a meeting between the AFL union and ship operators at noon with another conference to follow at 3 p. m., covering the marine engineers.

The spokesman added that west coast operators, who bolted the peace talks after flatly turning down the unions' demands for a closed shop, would be asked to return to the bargaining table.

Pickets Circle Major Hotels In Pittsburgh Strike

Walkout Began At Midnight Last Night As Employees Vote 4 To 1 To Strike

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Pickets circled Pittsburgh's eight major hotels today as approximately 1,800 service employees struck for higher wages.

The walkout began at midnight last night after members of the AFL Hotel and Restaurant association employed voters 4 to 1 to walk off the job.

Earlier there had been reports that the calling of the strike would be delayed until after Pittsburgh's week-old power strike was settled.

At the last minute, however, the employees were ordered off the job and told to report to union headquarters in downtown Pittsburgh.

The strike caught some of the hotel guests with alarming and strange suddenness. For example, many patrons were dining and dancing in a hotel supper club when, in the middle of a song, the orchestra quit playing and retired from the bandstand. Diners who had not completed their meals were not given any additional courses after the midnight deadline.

The union demanded a 25 cent hourly wage increase and the Hotel association offered eight cents an hour to non-tip employees and four cents an hour to those receiving tips.

The Hotel association said employees' wages vary from $50 to approximately $200 weekly.

Death And Prison Sentences Meted Out To Convicted Nazis At Nuernberg

THREE ACCUSED ARE ACQUITTED

By PIERRE J. HUSS (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NUERNBERG, Oct. 1.—Twelve of Nazi Germany's top leaders—one of them missing and believed dead—were sentenced to hang by the neck today for their crimes against humanity, and Hermann Wilhelm Goering headed the list.

Three of the defendants named in the original indictment of the international military tribunal were acquitted, along with the roster of the German high command and this led immediately to a storm of protest from the Soviet Russian judges who participated.

They filed a sharp dissent, holding that all of the twenty-one visible defendants plus the ghost of missing Martin Bormann, should have been convicted of all charges and of every count in the indictment.

Unless any of the death sentences are commuted, the eleven now-living Nazi leaders are likely to die before the 16th of this month. Allied authorities had agreed that all those condemned would be disposed of within fifteen days of sentence.

Eighteen Found Guilty

Thus eighteen of the defendants at the Nuernberg war trial were found guilty of one or more counts. A nineteenth, the missing and believed dead Martin Bormann, deputy to Hitler, was convicted also and condemned to execution in absentia.

Ernest Kaltenbrunner, chief of the Nazi Security Police and by virtue of his job the lord high executioner of Germany under Hitler, was sentenced to death by hanging.

Former Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, who engineered all of Hitler's aggressive foreign policies, was assigned to the gallows.

So was Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, dynamo of the German war machine, and a like fate was handed to Alfred Rosenberg, the Latvian-born minister of culture in the Nazi regime, appointed by Hitler to become some day the new "Aryan" czar of a defeated Russia.

To Go To Gallows

Hans Frank, the suave murderer selected personally by Hitler to exact the last possible toll of cruelty from German-occupied Poland, was sent to the gallows tree.

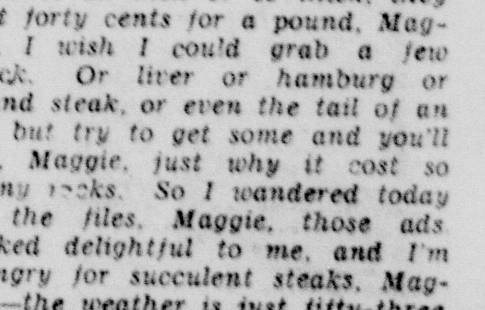

So was Wilhelm Frick, the original Nazi master of Bohemia and Moravia, sent into the raped and slaughtered territories of Czechoslovakia in the first surge of Nazi aggression in 1938.

Walther Funk, minister of economics during many long years of Hitler's power, was sentenced to imprisonment for life.

Death by hanging with a rope around his unwashed neck was decreed for Julius Streicher, architect of Hitler's war against the Jews.

Strike Situation
Now Being Faced
In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Here's the situation in strike struck Pittsburgh:

Power—Strike moves into second week with power output at one-third capacity. Federal conciliators spur efforts to untangle ever-growing crisis. End not in sight.

Hotels—City's eight major hotels crippled by walkout of hotel service employees. Restaurants and bars closed. Guests walking upstairs to rooms and making own beds.

Windows—Window cleaners post-pone proposed strike.

Transportation—Trolleys and buses idle. Traffic tieups in downtown Pittsburgh worst in city's history. Many persons unable to get to work because of transportation shortage.

Citizens—Civic groups band together to do all possible to keep power plants operating. Others canvassing strikers, urging them to end dispute.

Russians Opposed
Leniency For Hess
And Other Nazis

NUERNBERG, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Presiding Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence disclosed today that the Soviets dissented from the decision of the international military tribunal to sentence Rudolf Hess to life imprisonment.

The Soviets insisted that the former Hitler deputy be sentenced to the gallows.

The Russians opposed also the decision to acquit the German cabinet, general staff and high command and defendants Hjalmar H. G. Schacht, Franz von Papen and Hans Fritzsche.

price relief by Anderson. Under the revised price control law, he still can order lifting of controls on the grounds that they are impeding necessary production.

However, in a speech at Albuquerque, N. M., Monday, he reiterated a strong pro-control administration stand by stating meat is "still in short supply and should be continued under price control."

Unless there is a complete reversal of administration policy, the meat price controls are expected to continue well after the November election.

To Petition Anderson

The beef industry plans to petition Anderson for an end of price controls a week from today. Upon his refusal, such an appeal would filter up to the three-man price decontrol board. Board members, however, predict that it will be late November, at least, before the matter reaches them. Once it does, they promise a decision within a few days.

There has been little indication of which way the board would jump should the matter come before it. Chairman Roy Thompson has indicated, however, that he isn't satisfied with the way the present controls are working.

Other activities on the price front include:

Representatives of the restaurant industry are due to meet today with OPA officials to discuss the price increase they are to be allowed on meat dishes. The restaurant men won an offer of an increase after a bitter battle with OPA over a price rollback to levels of April 4 to 10, 1943.

Retail prices on oleomargarine, cooking and salad oils, mayonnaise, salad dressing and shortening today went up an average of two and one-half cents a pound as a result of higher ceilings on crude cottonseed, soybean, peanut and corn oils.

Chewing gum and prepared mixed flour too a list of items exempted from price controls. Also on the list are animal gland derivatives and some agricultural insecticides, fungicides and related products.

Sentences Pronounced

Lord Presiding Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence intoned the verdicts upon one of the sorry-faced defendants after the other.

In the case of each he used the same, unchanging formula, saying: "Of which you have been convicted, the international tribunal sentences you to . . ."

Then followed the capital punishment or period of years to be spent in jail.

The various defendants accepted the news of their fate with varying reactions.

As Presiding Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence read out the news that Goering must die—by hanging and not with the military courtesy of the firing squad as he had asked—the once-powerful grand marshal ran into difficulties with adjustment of his earphones.

The proceedings were delayed for a full minute until the apparatus could be put into shape.

Then Goering stood rigid, his thumbs at the seams of his trousers in full military attention, while the verdict was read out.

He left the dock to return to his jail cell with a gait that was the full step of military precision.

Hess Angry

Hess angrily pulled the headset from his ears, looked around the courtroom, stared for a moment at the ceiling and then strode out.

Von Ribbentrop heard the verdict with his hands folded in front of him, apparently in half a daze. Keitel clicked his heels and accepted his notice of execution at the stance of full Prussian attention.

Rosenberg was an immovable, emotionless figure when he heard the court tell him he must die.

Streicher tossed his head arrogantly and refrained for a moment or so from chewing gum or munching on his diet of biscuits.

Raeder and Schirach heard their verdicts with German stolidity. Frank nodded his head in anticipation of the sentence and politely thanked the white-helmeted American military guards for the use of his earphones as he made his way back to the elevator leading to the jail cells.

The three acquitted prisoners, von Papen, Schacht and Fritzsche, immediately made positive demands that they be shielded against interviews and photographers. Their attitude was that acquittal meant they should be liberated in a quiet manner and not followed by curious crowds.

Hitting the home stretch towards Columbus, the Turtle was reported passing over Peoria, Ill., at 10:20 a. m. EST.

The distance from Perth, on the southwestern tip of Australia, to Columbus is 11,236 miles. It is 11,391 miles to Morgantown, W. Va., from the starting point "down under."

As it sped across the Rockies and the western plain states the Turtle was cruising at 11,500 feet at approximately 200 miles an hour.

GOERING FIRST TO HEAR DECREE, TO BE HANGED

U-boat warfare in the early stages of the second world conflict, got off easily with only ten years in jail.

But his naval counterpart in the historic trial, Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, was sentenced to life imprisonment. He had been accused of building and drilling the German navy for aggressive warfare against the world.

Twenty Years In Jail

Count Baldur von Schirach, one of the few "high-born" Germans to throw in their lot with the Nazis and who was entrusted with the complete Nazification of German youth, was sent to jail for twenty years.

He will be 57 when released from captivity.

Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl, chief of staff to Hitler during the war years, was told that he must die by the hangman's noose, as was Fritz Sauckel, whose job it was to mobilize, exploit and kill when advisable, the millions of slave laborers brought into Germany from conquered nations.

The noose was decreed for Arthur Seyss-Inquart, be-spectacled former gymnasium teacher who was appointed in turn by Hitler as gauleiter for Holland and his native Austria.

Albert Speer, whose organizing genius won him the post of minister of production and munitions for the Nazis, was told he will have to spend the next twenty years of his life behind bars.

Fifteen years in prison was the punishment decreed for tall, gray-haired Baron Constantin von Neurath, once a foreign minister of Germany and later the perpetrator of Hitler's infamies in Bohemia and Moravia.

his Junker pride and immobile dignity as his judgment was enunciated. Julius Streicher, a chewing gum addict, listened while his jaws worked.

The arch enemy of the Jews sat bolt upright, chin well forward as he heard himself pronounced guilty. Streicher attempted to strike a dignified attitude which succeeded only in making him appear pitifully ridiculous.

Meanwhile, Hess was interestedly scanning the visitors gallery as though the trial did not exist for him.

Wilhelm Frick heard his verdict without emotion or a facial reaction.

Alfred Rosenberg stared solemnly at the floor, sometimes grimacing as his verdict was announced.

Hans Frank blushed slightly, his face showing the strain of his effort at self control. His eyes were covered by black glasses.

There are only a few small deliriums shown in Western Pennsylvania, and work will be completed soon on a lot of resurfacing and widening projects which have been underway this summer.

A Walmo resident reported to Pa Newc this morning, that an unusual phenomenon in the weather occurred around 9:15 o'clock this morning, in that area. The informant told Pa Newc that within ten minutes time, residents of the district witnessed, sleet, snow, rain and sunshine.

In the "I Overheard This" department, Pa Newc overheard a customer ask a clerk for one of those scarce articles that are sold one to a customer. The clerk asked if she hadn't sold him one an hour ago. Customer—"No! You were out when I bought the other one."

Boys and girls of the city public schools receive their daily outdoor exercise regardless of whether the weather is cold or warm. Pa Newc notes in his travels past the schools of the city. On cool days, the school children are bundled up, but nevertheless they get outdoor exercise which is necessary in the building up of their growing bodies.

October came in this morning, and it brought with it a large number of men on the streets wearing topcoats for the first time this season. Weather conditions were rather chilly during the morning.

Mrs. Clifford Book of the Ellwood Road, reports that one of her 'Austria White' six month old pullets recently laid an egg weighing quarter of a pound, measuring eight and half inches longest circumference and three quarters shortest circumference.

With the change from fast to slow time, Pa Newc discovers that the sun is much higher in the sky upon rising in the mornings. Likewise in the evenings, darkness approaches more quickly, with the evening meal being served by the use of electricity.

LEGION HEARS CALL TO FIGHT COMMUNISM

ed strikes have been postponed until adequate communist support and backing were available.

No Place In America

Hoover said: "If the peoples of other countries want communism, let them have it, but it has no place in America. . . . All those who stand for the American way of life must arise and defeat red fascism in America by focusing upon it the spotlight of public opinion and by building up barriers of common decency through which it cannot penetrate."

Gen. Eisenhower, in a message to Legionnaires relayed from Europe, where he is making a tour of U. S. military establishments, warned that "the last war was fought in vain" unless America is constantly prepared to defend democracy.

Spaatz, urging a unified command for the army, navy and air forces, warned that America is "wide open at the top" to attack from the Arctic circle.

Admiral Nimitz, who did not mention the unified command proposal in his address, declared that a strong army and navy is the best guarantee for peace until such time war has been permanently abolished.

All speakers reiterated their firm convictions that world-wide peace is attainable. In this connection, Commander Stille projected the American Legion into active participation in world affairs.

strike as more stores and factories closed. Virtually all small steel fabricating plants were down and the larger steel mills were operating with reduced personnel.

Birger Engstrom, vice president of the McDowell Manufacturing Co., and a representative of the Smaller Manufacturers' association, said: "We are going to pass out of the picture if the strike doesn't end soon."

He said the smaller manufacturers have about 200 members and all of them are completely closed down.

Huge Mail Accumulations

Railroad officials reported freight and express piled up at depots. The post office reported a huge accumulation of mail, due to the hundreds of offices being closed.

Meanwhile, police pushed the investigation into the first act of alleged "sabotage." Pete Wasser, manager of a Pittsburgh radio station, reported that a power line had been cut three times. Earlier, Wasser said he had denied George Mueller, president of the light company union, free time on the air.

The crippling strike was beginning to be felt in other cities. The Witte Mfg and Sales Co. of Chicago wired Mayor David L. Lawrence that it was forced to shut down because of depleted stock. The telegram said other plants in the Chicago area were in the same condition.

PROTECTION FAITH

Saturday night about 9:30, we had a time driving a number of young people (not children, but grown people) out of the leaves in our yard. We finally got rid of them.

Got up this morning at 6 o'clock, seven dogs on our front porch, on our swings and cushion, that we like to use ourselves. We called the police station and they said to try Jack Young, that he had a telephone. We tried for an hour to get Jack Young, and no answer. At 9:30 the dog army still had possession of our place, and no relief.

WASHINGTON CALLING by MARQUIS CHILDS

Europe's Rocket Scare, Real Or Imaginary?

STOCKHOLM.—The most extraordinary phenomenon of postwar Europe is the reports of flying bombs or rockets that are now beginning to come from widely separated areas. If they are real, then we have a small sample of what the next conflict will be like. If they are mere illusion, then we have an example of the uneasy state of mind of the people who live on this troubled continent.

The rockets first were reported in numbers from Sweden, where you would assume that the cautious and even-tempered population, untouched by the direct tragedy of war, would not be subject to random nightmares. Next were vague reports of fire bombs over Athens at the time of the visit of the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt. More recently, rockets have been reported over Italian cities and the Italian government has ordered an investigation.

I have talked to many people here about the flying bombs. Some put the whole thing down to post-war hysteria. Others take a serious view of what they call, half in jest, "Russian Hail."

Shower Begins to Die Out

One thoroughly reliable American observer with whom I talked saw flying bombs in broad daylight over this city. It was a cigar-shaped object which streaked across the sky with great speed and seemed on the point of shooting earthward. Conservative Swedish observers have seen what they believed to be rockets.

Official opinion is that nothing is really known about the phenomenon, which now has more or less subsided. Recently, at any rate, very few reports of bombs have been received. If the government has found any fragments, that fact is being kept a secret.

The soundest opinion seems to me to be this: The Russians on the island of Peenemunde, off the German coast in the Baltic, are probably experimenting with televised rockets. They must send them over a fairly long distance in order to make an adequate test.

It could be embarrassing to shoot them into British or American zones. Sweden has large forest areas with sparse population. This is therefore a good target area, since a small country would hesitate over making a protest to a large country in any event.

Contribution to Terror

That any political motivation lies behind the "Russian hail" is most unlikely. This somehow makes the phenomenon, if it is actually a weapon of war, more terrifying. It has an impersonal, emotionless quality that disregards human values which have been painfully built up through the centuries.

It resembled the action of the Soviets in the fall of 1939, when thousands of Poles flew into Russia to escape from the Nazis. Many of them were professional men and intellectuals with their families. They were put in forest camps in the dead of winter with pitifully inadequate clothing and food, and they died in an average of three weeks. There was no special hostility toward these people, but there was no place for them to go and in the camps they contributed little or nothing before they died.

Bearing on the mystery of the flying bombs is a misunderstanding as to what happened on the island of Peenemunde, which was one of the chief centers for German experiments with rockets. In this column, in the Readers Digest and elsewhere in the United States, it has been widely printed on what seemed good information that installations at Peenemunde were destroyed by bombing attacks. That is not true. The United States strategic bombing survey determined that very little damage was done at Peenemunde.

Peenemunde Equipment Not Ruined
From other sources I have learned that the Russians took Peenemunde almost intact. They also captured a number of German scientists who were active in promoting guided missile and rocket research.

The U. S. got its share of these scientists, many of whom are now in America. But the Soviets also shared in this strange spoil of war and their captured scientists now are said to be working for them. These experts may be teaching the Russians what they know and that may be the explanation for the mysterious fireworks.

Psychologists do not, of course, discount the remarkable suggestibility of the human mind in periods of great stress. Before the rise of Nazism with its sinister accompaniment of mass hypnotism, we liked to think we were living in an age of reason and could not be touched by spells and hysteria that formerly swept whole populations. In the year 1000, large numbers of Europeans became convinced that the world was ending and strange forms of mass hysteria occurred throughout the continent.

Perhaps the "Russian hail" was only a stray meteor or two magnified by tragic fears that feed on the mysteries of science. How many years must pass before we can hope to see the peoples of the world back to the old normal?

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed By International News Service)

There appear to be no spectacular upsets at Nuernberg... the losers were found guilty by the winners... it just took longer than usual.

No neutral nations were represented on the trial court... that way the guilty could not escape a fair trial.

The verdicts are certain to be widely discussed just as soon as the world series is out of the way.

At the moment, the Brooks and the Cards are more certain of a good press than is Goering.

I hear that where the excitement in Brooklyn was previously intense it is now outdone.

As one fan put it so well... "we are on the brink of nervous frustration."

My wife can't understand this pennant race. She says "imagine these fellows working all summer to bring home a pennant... We were at Niagara Falls for just one week and we brought home a lovely pennant."

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

In one of his recent columns my good friend George Dixon made this statement:

"It seems a terrible thing to say, but what this country needs is a good depression."

"Paradoxically it is the only way to restore real prosperity. America's got to get a terrific jolt so it will be glad to go back to work again."

George Dixon is right. We do need a "terrific jolt" to become American again.

The trouble with us is that we have become soft. We have become accustomed to too many luxuries to too much good living.

We have become a nation of sybarites. I wrote something on the same subject last week.

But I am not afraid to repeat myself. We simply have to change our own ways before we can expect to change or dictate the ways of others.

True enough, millions of our boys endured awful hardships and bravely faced death in the last two wars.

There was no softness, no luxury for them. But these boys are not running our country.

They are being kicked around and made tools of by a lot of starchy-eyed politicians and would-be statesmen who never got any farther into the war than a Washington swivel chair or a New York night club.

Those boys have little to say about the country. They did fight for portehouse steaks and nylon stockings.

They fought for the country of Washington and Lincoln and Jefferson.

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

Here 'tis the first day of October... the weather has held up mighty fine... now it looks like maybe some cool chills will be hitting you as you round the corner... straw hats are put away... and many would like to put away summer weight suits but a summer suit is better than no suit at all.

Still can't make sense... we did in this nation develop almost overnight an industrial strength sufficient to beat a Germany and a Japan... Not only did we supply our own men with tools of war but many others as well. Today we are really hurting for materials... There is absolutely no sense to it... unless of course the hidden power is now making us weak for a purpose.

We could not today wage a defensive war against Russia... why because all the Red Fronts would revolt against us... They could call a strike, a general strike and close all defense plants, all power plants, railroads and shipping. Such a strike would be typed as a refusal to fight against a peace loving nation... Russia... and thousands of well-meaning workers would support it.

We are giving you these words for the purpose of making you conscious of an organization... however we do have in mind an organization that can help the little man. The man who owns property, the man because he does own property pays the biggest share of the tax bill. This organization has a nation wide interest... and locally it is beginning to grow. Made up of responsible citizens that you know. The Lawrence County Chapter of the National Home and Property Owners Foundation. To push back the unnecessary restrictions and regulations... that if permitted to continue will in no time at all make the Federal government in sole control of property... That means your home, your place of business... be it private or corporation. We must see that America is all America... We must think clearly... and act wisely.

The Parent Problem

By GARY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

DON'T LET CHILDREN BE OVERDEPENDENT

Yesterday, I pointed out that over-dependence emotionally by the child on his mother provides a ready soil for breeding all sorts of fears in this child. Earlier, I begged the young mother to wean her child emotionally from her early and gradually, and herself from him, if she would avoid many of such tragedies as those of children crying to be allowed to stay home from school.

Now, some of my readers have asked, "Shall we be cold and unaffectionate toward our growing child?" Of course not. Show him abundant affection and welcome his. Have no hesitancy about kissing and cuddling him. The young child especially should have lots of fondling and caressing.

Desirable Experiences

But in the first place he should get it in connection with his desirable experiences and not to cultivate nuisance-habits in him. Their expression of affection should also come from the father and other adults who deal with this child. It should not center about any one person.

Of course, we should know that mere expression of affection like caressing and kissing is the most primitive sort and can't provide satisfying very long to the child unless it is enriched with more enduring symbols of love.

These more enduring symbols include tenderness of tones and smiles, understanding of the child, appreciation of what he says and does and how he feels. We show enduring affection when we treat him as a real person, not making fun of him, nor growing angry at his learning mistakes.

Answer Questions

We show it as we answer his questions kindly, enjoy conversation with him, encourage him in his creations and his successes at worthy achievements. Accordingly, we set the stage so he will, within his limitation, achieve in worthy ways. We find ways to make him feel he really belongs in his family group.

We show him genuine affection as we help him become self-reliant, look after himself, gain abundant fun at play with other children. We show real affection to the child of two or fifteen as we not only enjoy him and he us but also as we enjoy seeing him grow up and gain normal satisfaction from proving he is growing up.

When our affection for him and his for us make him always feel insecure and unhappy out of our physical presence, it is a hampering sort of affection. You see, it is so selfish on our side and his. We also try to show him the more lasting type of affection which we have already discussed.

Furthermore, we render him less ready to enjoy the affection he deserves from the other parent, even from other adults and from others of his own age. We then limit him to bestow and win the normal affection which should result by and by in his marriage and happy family life.

Yes, the growing child needs more love instead of less, even from his mother, but the kind of love which will enable him to become a happy, likable, useful person.

FINANCIAL HELP FOR MOTHER AND DAD

"My husband and I are barely existing on his retirement stipend. We are too old to take any of the numerous jobs now open. We have a tiny house in a run-down neighborhood. Although we would like to move to a more attractive neighborhood, we must live on in this house because it is clear of mortgage. Our son on whose education we spent much money is now a very successful businessman. Never since he married has he offered one penny to his father and me and never has he offered to better our living conditions. We want nothing grand; but we would like to spend our waning years in a suburban bungalow where we might be able to relax under the peaceful shade of trees, away from the noise and filth of city life. Do you think we are justified in expecting a little help from our son who has more than an ample supply of this world's goods?"

Answer: You are, indeed, justified in expecting help. If your son is not sufficiently appreciative for you to suggest that he help you, get around the problem by raving about suburban bungalows and tell him constantly how your neighborhood has run down, how noisy and hot it is in summer, how Dad would love to have his own backyard victory garden; and if your son has any human kindness, any gratitude for what you did for him, he will awaken and set you up in the suburbs.

It is the duty of children to help their aged parents financially. Your son is a stingy, selfish man if he refuses to help you.

On the contrary, parents should not assume a possessive attitude toward their grown children. Some parents, mothers especially, are hurt if they are not included in every social affair given by their children. Two generations cannot live harmoniously together, unless the older realizes that the younger generation must have their moments of freedom with their contemporaries. No one admires the daughter or son who constantly relegates "Mama" to the seclusion of her room or who considers the "old folks" too uninteresting to be given more than passing notice. But the "old folks" should be broadminded about being excluded from some of the parties in which only the younger generation is welcome. This is a situation not entirely understood by a great many older women.

Political Moves May Hit Harmony Of War Probers Siamese Make Strong Bid For Friendship Of U. S. Pan American Seeking New Air Routes

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Look for temporary fireworks in the usually harmonious war investigating committee—from now until after election.

As a matter of campaign strategy at least one Republican member may be expected to make moves to embarrass Chairman James D. Mead (D) of New York in his New York governorship campaign. Such action also may be taken to hurt the re-election campaign of Senator Harley Kilgore (D) of West Virginia, and prominently mentioned as Mead's successor as chairman.

Moves are already in evidence. Mead's apparent inclination to postpone the inquiry by Senator Owen Brewster (R) of Maine, into the conduct of "high-ranking officers" in the occupation zone, in favor of pushing other probes, was seized upon for criticism.

Likewise, Republicans are going to fan whatever embers of discord they can find among the majority over selection of a chairman. One hears rumors that administrative leaders are engaging in a "trust Mead" move to have the New York retain the chairmanship and head off Kilgore—their apparent.

But observers are noting that those rumors appear only in Republican circles. They can be marked down as political campaigning.

After the election the committee can be depended upon to go back to its non-partisan basis and function harmoniously.

Beleaguered Siam recently made a desperate diplomatic move to enlist United States support in its present position by inviting American capital to come in and develop its unmineralized resources.

Hitherto, Siam has been attached sentimentally to the United States, but financially tied to Great Britain. Since the war, however, Siam has resented British and French efforts to take the country over along with its rich tin deposits.

Thus, by throwing open its resources to American capital, it is believed, Siam is seeking a friend in the United States with the view that her other friends have failed her.

Rep. Dewey Short (R) of Missouri has returned from a 38,000-mile 40-day tour of the Far East convinced that if the United States is not to be outsmarted, it should drill its diplomats in the language of the country in which they are to be stationed.

The congressman said that it was "disgraceful" that American embassy personnel abroad have to have their names translated for them. He declared:

"The men in our embassies in China, Japan and Russia may have a smattering of the language but when it comes to something important, they have to get a native to translate for them."

AUTUMN THOUGHT

With gold and red the autumn glows.

In splendor elm and maple fade.

And every thing in nature shows
The calm of ageing unafraid.

The garden wears the smile of peace.

Triumphantly the storms were met.

The budding and the flowering cease.

Soon, sleep will come with no regret.

Both plant and vine are richly dressed.

The last bright bit of robe they'll wear.

The humblest twig has done its best.

And hidden is every sign of care.

Would man could come so bravely through
The storms and heartaches of the years.

And hide his every scar from view,
And fearless be when age appears.

The World and the Mud Puddles

AND RUSSIAN POLAND ALSO!

Poor old Santa Claus Sam, with Yugoslavia still asking for a date in the wedding, now has a wail from Poland. The Polish "government" which is a marionette edition of Stalin, complains that we are infringing on its sovereignty and interfering with its internal affairs because we have the unparalleled audacity to insist that Poland have a free election.

About the only thing that the late Franklin D. Roosevelt ever did squeeze out of Stalin, after all the deals of Yalta, Tehran, etc., was a pledge that the Polish people would be allowed to select their own government in an open, fair election. Of course, this promise meant nothing to Kremlin Joe; he set up his own government in Poland and is still running the country in such a typical Soviet fashion that Polish soldiers who fought with the United States in Italy and Africa are afraid to return home for fear they will be liquidated.

Now somebody at Washington evidently disloyal to the Rooseveltian policy of appeasement, bobs up and embarrasses the imitation government by reminding it of the free election promise. This is not the first time this touchy subject has been mentioned. Several months ago, the State Department actually had the crust to hold up a ninety million dollar loan to Poland on the argument that free elections had not been held as promised; but the diplomats under Mr. Byrnes weakened when the Russians let out a howl, and the Poles—or their Communist bosses—got the money.

Here, of course, is where we made our mistake. As soon as they get the money, all our loving friends get cocky and start thumbing their noses at us. That is what happened after we gave Yugoslavia two hundred million dollars' worth of food and clothes, and farm machinery. That is what is happening in Poland, whose troubles have evoked harrows of tears among our people. Having got the ninety million dollars they start pushing us around. As a matter of fairness, however, it ought to be said that the Polish "government" which is sharing at its is neither Polish or a real government. We believe that the Polish people, if they had a chance, would show old Santa Sam real appreciation and gratitude.

Keep Up The Search

If federal taxes are to be reduced next year, it will be up to Congress to find a way to do it. The administration will not recommend a downward adjustment and will, in fact, resist any move in that direction.

No other conclusion can be drawn from the address made by Secretary of the Treasury Snyder before the American Bankers Association. Present tax levels must be retained as long as current prosperity continues, he said, because the federal government must "address its primary efforts on the fiscal front to achieving a balanced budget" and should try for a surplus of income over outgo. He added that these views have the President's support.

The budget ought to be balanced and the debt cut down as well. But Mr. Snyder evidently assumes that it is not possible to pare expenditures further, as he declared, "I think that it is pure fantasy, if not plain demagoguery, to talk of tax reduction and debt reduction in the same breath."

This assumption is open to challenge when federal outgo for the first quarter of the 1947 fiscal year totaled more than $9,000,000,000. When government expenditures are 15 times as great as they were 15 years ago, there must be plenty of room for economies.

Certainly it is too early to give up the effort to find them, for the government cannot maintain the present spending level indefinitely. To attempt it would mean more deficits when revenues fall. It is imperative to get down from the plateau at the earliest possible moment.

End Official Shilly-Shallying—Get Some Meat

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and OPA Director Paul Porter say there is no meat famine. Tell that to hundreds of thousands of housewives standing in line all over the country. Whether it's to be called a famine or a scarcity, the effect is the same: there's no meat.

There's one place—Washington—with a famine of ideas and a complete lack of constructive action. From the President, who counsels patience, through all government agencies the only policy is to "wait it out."

How long? The Decontrol Board says it couldn't act before November on a petition to reconsider meat controls. Geoffrey Baker, deputy price administrator, says that "in the normal course of events" the meat supply should start improving in October. Some western packers look for good improvement in the situation until after January 1.

Local packers anticipate that the Army quartermaster's requisition of 12,000,000 pounds a week for the Army, Navy, Coast Guard and other government agencies will strip Philadelphia of all pork products. New York hospitals are adopting meat substitutes for their patients. Three New York butchers have applied for permission to sell horse meat for human consumption. In some areas chickens are sold for a dollar a pound.

This is not occurring in a country that was ravaged by war. This year has seen some of the greatest crops in history. But clumsy bureaucratic tinkering with America's food has brought us to this pass.

And nothing is being done about it. It should be made clear to the so-called leaders of America now in public office that they must do more than "wait it out." The Army knows how to get meat for its soldiers. The United States Government should act to get meat for its citizens.

The American people are tired of being pushed around. This time—whatever the causes—they have been pushed too far and they demand something better than alibis, explanations and bureaucratic bungling. They demand meat. They should have it, with an absolute minimum on delays and official shilly-shallying.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Shifts In Command

In time of war the sort of shuffle of the Navy high command which was announced last week would have been a subject for public comment and speculation for days. Today it has no such compelling interest for the average civilian. There is nothing particularly strange or wrong about this. It is simply a natural consequence of the fact that the time of battles is over and the names of top naval commanders no longer fill the headlines day after day.

But the shifts are still extremely important to every American, for the caliber of the men who fill these posts will determine largely the effectiveness of the nation's naval defenses.

During the next few months the Navy will lose the services of four men of great ability. Admiral John H. Towers, commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet; Vice Admiral Aubrey H. Fitch, superintendent of Annapolis; Vice Admiral Harold G. Bowen, chief of naval research, and Rear Admiral Luis de Florez, Bowen's deputy, are slated to retire. All four served this country superbly in the greatest of naval wars. All deserve their nation's thanks as they end their active service.

Their successors are less well known. But they include such able officers as Vice Admirals Denfield, Fichtler and Cochran. The one shift which is difficult to explain is the transfer of Vice Admiral Blandy, who commanded the Bikini atom bomb tests, to the command of the Eighth Fleet. The Eighth is now a paper fleet without ships under Admiral Mitscher, the Atlantic Fleet commander.

This could mean that the Navy has in mind an expansion of sea power in the Atlantic or it may be that the appointment is merely an interim one. It is certain that a man as able and experienced as Admiral Blandy will not be left for long without important work to do.

Tinsley J. Duffer, country club habitué, missed 276 putts during the season, assumed full blame, completely exonerating the greens committee and his caddy.

Renfrew J. Pickles, picnic addict, participated in no less than 26 outings yet never once insisted that he knew best how to cook the steaks—when there were steaks. Nor did he ever criticize the selection of sites for picnics, showing, at all times, remarkable self-restraint.

Contributor Sends Check As Advance Gift For Almira Home Ingathering

Several advance contributions of money, one a check for $100, have already been received by Mrs. W. Walter Braham, Almira Home donation day chairman.

Wednesday, Oct. 23, has been set aside as donation day at Almira Home, the one day annually when friends of the home contribute staple groceries, canned goods, etc., to an ingathering at the home.

Customarily large amounts of such staples as flour, potatoes, sugar, fruit, canned goods and jellies are received in impressive array on donation day.

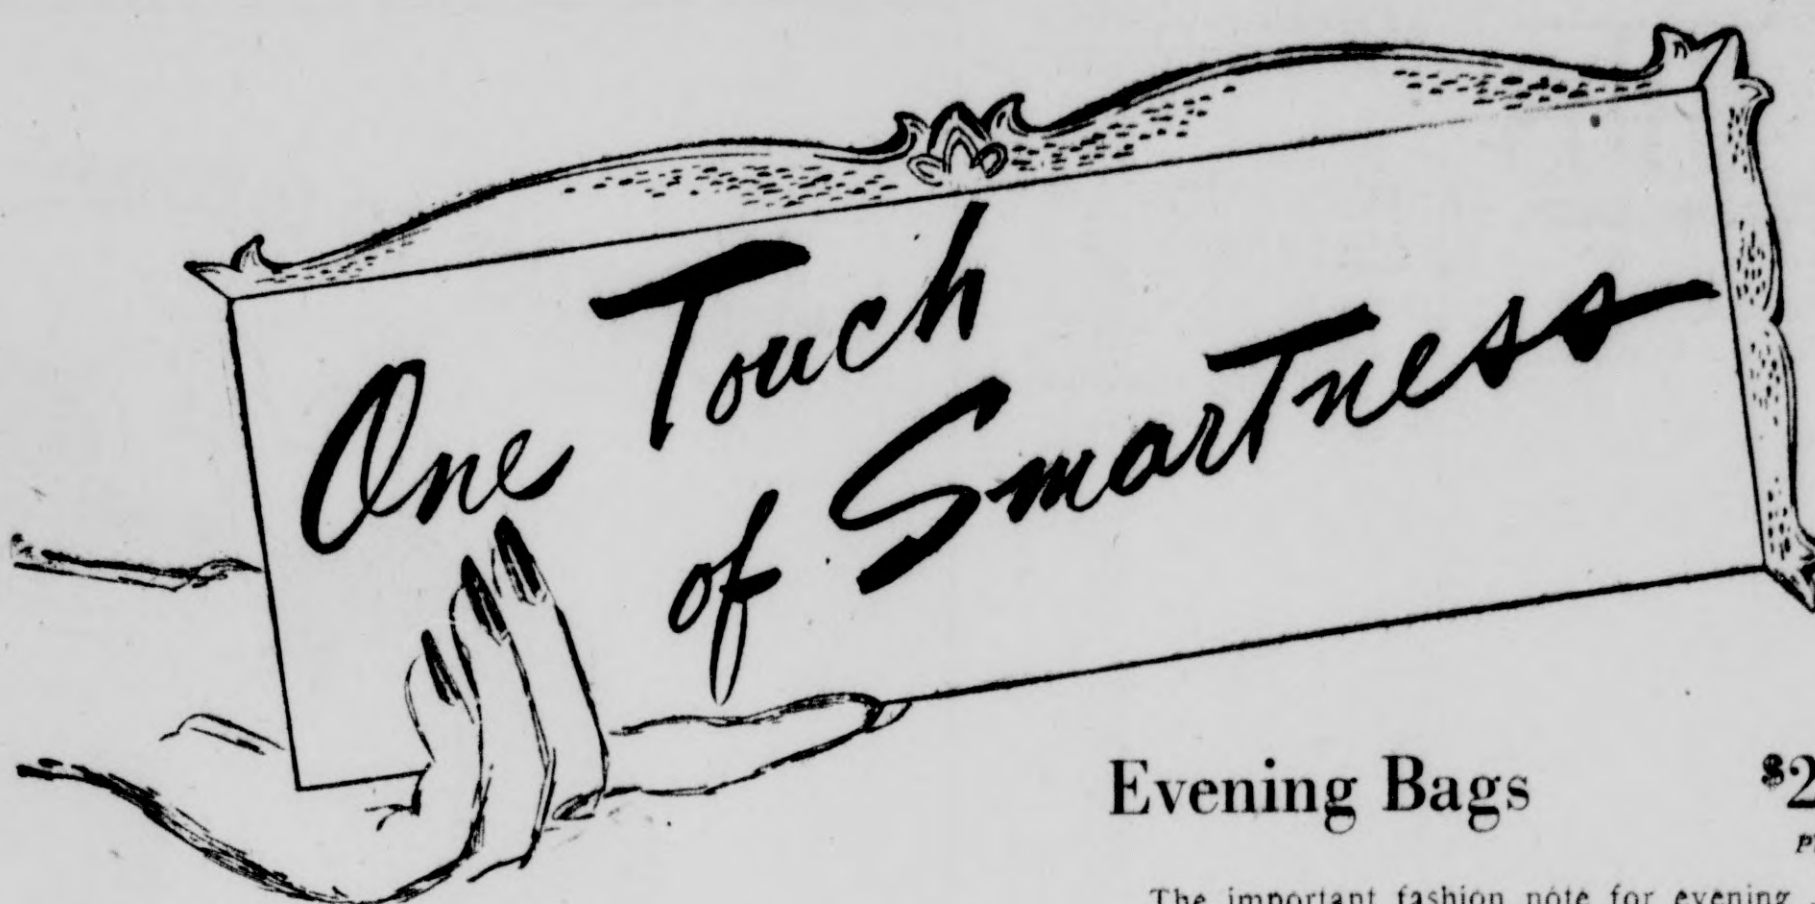

For the past few years, due to wartime shortages of certain food-stuffs, gifts of money, to be applied on the home's allotments, a practice that some contributors evidently plan to continue this donation day.

WARN SUICIDES?

EASTBOURNE, England, Oct. 1.—The Eastbourne town council will decide whether signs warning prospective suicides to keep off would disfigure the scenic beauty of Beachy Head Cliff.

Erection of signs on the dangerous site, which has lured many suicides in the past, was suggested by the Rev. R. Q. Nelson, Church of England clergyman.

The Downs Preservation Committee, however, has asked the council to take no action, on the ground that it is unnecessary. The committee consulted two psychologists before reaching its decision.

PIRKALA-SHEPHERD WEDDING-RECEPTION

Miss Helmi Pirkkala, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Pirkkala of 228 East Washington street, became the bride of Richard Shepherd, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shepherd of East Canton, O., at a wedding solemnized in the Woodland Lutheran church of Youngstown, O., Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. Rev. A. Adams officiated.

The bride wore a street-length dress with gold accessories and a corsage of roses. Her sister, Miss Hertha Pirkkala, as maid of honor wore a melon colored dress with brown accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Donald Poling of Canton served as best man.

Before the ceremony a pre-nuptial supper was served at the Pirkkala home here where at 8 o'clock following the ceremony, a reception was held for 100 guests.

Aides were Mrs. Howard Erwin, Mrs. Camella Monroe, Mrs. Thomas Grittle, Mrs. J. Scott Cornelius and the Misses Donna and Louise Cornelius.

The bride and groom left on a wedding trip on an undisclosed destination and on their return will take up residence in Canton, O., where Mr. Shepherd is employed at the Canton Furnace company.

Prior to her marriage Mrs. Shepherd was employed at the General Electric company, Youngstown.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, aching at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with burning and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

the way to a man's heart...

WHAT, NO ROMANCE?

Why certainly. But even the glamour gals must have noticed that, come dinner time, the male of the species is quite apt to cast his eye in the direction of the kitchen, his nostrils quivering for scent of a sizzling steak. Yes, at least one route to a man's heart is via his stomach.

But this is no news to the great majority of American homemakers—those wise, loyal wives who see to it that their husbands are the world's best fed men. It's no easy task—planning three meals a day, every day... shopping for food... balancing a budget against rising food costs—but these wonderful women have proved more than equal to it.

And that's one of the very good reasons why every homemaker deserves the help of a modern automatic Gas range—that marvelous device which so dependably and economically carries out her plans for delicious, nutritious meals. The proven way of cooking!

a TIP to husbands—who appreciate good cooking

Some new Gas ranges are already on display at your Gas Company office and at your dealer's. But, even if you can't find exactly the model you want, it's a good idea to put your name in for earliest possible delivery.

Lay Leaders Adopt New Constitution For Church Council

Prominent Lay Leaders, Pastors
Meet At First Baptist Church In Behalf Of Church Council

Lay leaders, directed by Joseph Hartman, president of the New Castle Council of Churches, assisted by prominent ministers of the city, met in the First Baptist church, East at North street, on Monday evening, and adopted a constitution which sets forth the plans, purposes and motives of the newly organized council in the city.

Monday evening's session was opened with the invocation by Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, after which Mr. Hartman, read the proposed constitution which was up for adoption or rejection by the lay leaders, who represented many of the churches of the city.

The purpose of the new council as stated in the constitution, is to assert the voice of Protestantism in the city, with the idea in mind to get the churches of the city to cooperate in city wide spiritual welfare campaigns, and to develop a system of religious education in the schools, as provided for in the legislature of the state of Pennsylvania.

After the reading of the constitution, with one minor change, it was unanimously adopted by the group present.

Delegates from every church in the city are to be selected to form the main council body and will meet in session at a meeting in November, to be called by the president, when a definite plan of action will set up to get the new organization functioning smoothly.

Due to the resignation of Miss Margaret Cowmeadow, who has left the city, a new corresponding secretary was elected for the church council, Miss Emma Patton of the First Christian church was elected to the position.

Following a short discussion on financial matters, the meeting was concluded with Dr. S. E. Irvine of the First U. P. church pronouncing the benediction.

The plants affected, according to the USW, were the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, National Tube company, American Steel and Wire company, Columbia Steel company and the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company.

The USW reported the agreement was reached following completion of a survey which began in 1945.

October Draft Quota Hiked To 35,000 Men

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The army has called on selective service for an October draft quota of 35,000 men, up 10,000 from September.

There was no change in the age group to be called—19 through 26. The draft quota was raised without explanation on the heels of War department orders to speed the release of some 300,000 non-volunteer enlisted men.

Officials said, however, the army would effect savings in money and gain in efficiency by discharging men who had only a few weeks or months to serve and replacing them with recruits who under the extended draft law must serve 16 months.

CUDAHY

and the MEAT situation

Do not blame your dealer for the meat shortage, as we cannot supply the meat to him.

We cannot supply your dealer because we are unable to purchase sufficient livestock.

We cannot purchase adequate supplies of livestock for two reasons:

1. Supplies of livestock at the principal markets have been very meager, as you will see by referring to published livestock receipts.

2. Available supplies, small as they are, are not flowing through regular legitimate channels. A great portion is going through the black market.

Cudahy has never, and will not, indulge in black market operations. We are buying all the available livestock possible at the prices we are permitted to pay under OPA regulations. We will continue this policy and distribute the available supplies of meat products to our dealers.

AFL WARNS MOVIE HOUSES SHOWING COMMUNIST ACTORS

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Movie houses showing films of "treasonable" stars and writers were warned today by Matthew Woll, a vice president of the American Federation of Labor, that they would be picketed unless the Hollywood celebrities ceased sponsoring Communist-front organizations.

Woll's signed editorial in the October issue of the American Photo-Engraver, trade union publication, said: "There is a distinct possibility that unless the industry takes action that a League for Political Decency will be formed and picket lines, composed of loyal and irate American citizens, will do patriotic duty before the movie houses showing films in which treasonable start and writers are featured."

Equity Cases Before Court

Two Cases Of Similar Nature Heard By Judges In Court Monday

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Rather coincidentally the two judges of the Lawrence County court had equity cases involving the same kind of facts Monday morning. Both suits concerned the diversion of water from a natural water course over the property of the plaintiffs. In each case the court was asked to order the diversion stopped and the water returned to its original course.

In court room number one the case of John and Mary Ann Prekope versus John and Stephano Hink and County Commissioners Earl R. Wimer, Karl T. Rohrer and Joseph V. Travers.

The plaintiff claims that the defendants are using land in the 7th ward, owned by the county commissioners, for garden purpose and that a dam was built in a small stream. The building of the dam diverted the water over the plaintiff's land ruining nine acres for farm purposes.

In court room number two Judge John G. Lamoree had the case of Anthony and Rosie Servedo versus Emilia Getchy. In this case the plaintiff claims the defendant had used a piece of ground near a small stream, for the purpose of piling manure from his barn. The pile of manure diverted the water over the land of the plaintiff. Opinions and orders in the cases will come down later.

HEIFERS NEED CARE BEFORE FRESHENING

Many Lawrence County dairymen will have heifers freshening soon. These heifers should be placed with the milking herd in the barn at least 5 to 6 weeks before calving. This will accustom them to the milking routine.

Work around these heifers at milking time to get them familiar with the milkers. Clean and brush the heifers the same as the rest of the milking herd.

If heifers show a tendency to develop a severely caked udder, it may be advisable to pre-milk them. Pre-partum milking should be started 1 to 2 weeks before freshening, depending on the amount of cake or inflammation in the udder. If milk is present in the udder when pre-milking is first tried it is an indication that the heifer will freshen sooner than expected. In this case, discontinue pre-milking, since it may bring on milk fever.

Feed for heifers should be much the same as for the milking herd. Of course, the basis of the ration should be good hay. Silage feeding should be limited. Feed enough grain, containing 14 to 16 per cent protein, to put a good covering of flesh on the heifers. This will help them to go through a year of heavy production.

During the last three weeks before freshening, the heifer should get a freshening ration, such as the following:

100 pounds each of crushed oats, wheat bran, beet pulp, and chopped, leafy alfalfa hay; 40 pounds of molasses; and 5 pounds each of salt and steamed bone meal. Feed at the rate of 8 pounds a day.

THOUSANDS STARVE IN DUTCH INDIES

BATAVIA, Java.—Tens of thousands are starving on the island of Madoera, whose 2,500,000 people have been cut off from Java for more than a year, a prominent Madoerese who reached Batavia reported today.

Dutch authorities, confirming the report, said more than 3000 Madoerese crossed the shark-infested three-mile channel to Soerabaja, Java, in the last three months, by swimming or using rafts.

The visitor told newsmen three-quarters of his village of 5000 had died of starvation and disease. Asking that his name be withheld because his family still was on the island, he charged that 10,000 soldiers of the unrecognized Indonesian republic were ruling the people "iron-handedly."

United States Again Protests To Yugoslavia

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(INS)—The United States has renewed its protest against the allegedly provocative behavior of Yugoslav soldiers in the Anglo-American zone in Trieste.

A new note handed to Yugoslav Ambassador Sava N. Kusanovic on Friday and made public by the state department Monday, swept aside charges by Yugoslavia that six Yugoslav UNRRA guards and another Yugoslav military detachment had been improperly handled during an incident early on the morning of Sept. 9.

New Protest

"Instead," the note asserted, "it appears that this government must protest once again the disregard shown by officers and men of the Yugoslav detachment in zone A (the Anglo-American zone) for allied military regulations in that area."

The note asserted that a more thorough investigation confirmed that six Yugoslav soldiers, assigned as UNRRA guards, were arrested by American military police in Trieste at a point near which a large explosion had just occurred.

Further investigation revealed, it continued, that these guards all carried hand grenades in violation of orders that UNRRA guards go unarmed. But, it added, subsequent investigation cleared the six of any complicity with the explosion and they were released to Yugoslav military authorities.

Tension Responsible

The same tension which caused the arrest of the six UNRRA guards was said to be responsible for the detention by military police in Trieste of a Capt. Segota, head of a detachment of four Yugoslav soldiers.

Segota had come to protest the detention of the six and assumed a belligerent attitude toward the M. P. desk sergeant. The situation was made more difficult, the note commented, "by the lack of a common language and the absence of an interpreter."

However, the note asserted, Segota and his associates became menacing toward the desk sergeant who drew his pistol and held the group until the arrival of the American provost marshal of Trieste.

When the latter arrived, Segota and his associates were told they were free to leave.

A board of officers which investigated the incident, the note said, held that under normal conditions the action of the M. P.'s would have been improper. But, it found that excusable "against the background of the wounding of seven of their number by a hand grenade explosion of the previous day and discovery during the preceding hour that Yugoslav soldiers in Trieste were illegally armed with hand grenades."

ARREST ITALIAN REDS IN STONING OF 10 AMERICANS

TRIESTE, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Seven Italian Communists were under military arrest today on charges of complicity in the stoning of 10 American soldiers in the San Giovanni district of Trieste.

More than a score of men ambushed the G.I.s as they were returning to their quarters. One of the soldiers, Pfc. Raymond L. Rowe of Alhambra, Cal., was hospitalized with head injuries.

Council Will Discuss Sick Leave Question

Recent Injury To Employee Brings Question Up; Reported
Hurt Off Duty

Mayor John F. Haven and Council colleagues within the next several days will consider the grant by the city of 30 days sick leave with pay to employees, a rule which has been in effect for years. According to a report, an employee recently was injured while off duty and working, free, for other than the city. When the matter was broached in Council, solons adopted the position that, in order to qualify for pay during sickness or accident, such had to be incurred while on duty.

Councilman Joe D. Alexander and D. O. Davies said they deemed it best to discuss the situation, arrive at a fixed policy, then notify all city employees of the said decision.

If the city ever obtained a pro rata share of the state tax on cigarettes it would prove a neat sum, according to Council, who heard a proposal advanced at the Third-Class Cities convention in favor of such a move. The city now obtains about $15,000 annually from the sale of liquor licenses here, and about $25,000 from the tax on gasoline, the latter refund being for the upkeep of streets. The police and firemen's pension funds are aided by a certain percentage of the tax on foreign fire insurance.

The first automobile trip across the U. S. in 1901, took 61 days.

Soviet Note Differs From Broadcast On Dardanelles

LONDON, Oct. 1.—(INS)—The British foreign office said today it had received a copy of the Soviet note to Turkey over administration of the Dardanelles and asserted that the written version differed from the broadcast description.

The broadcast version as carried by the Moscow radio proposed bilateral Russo-Turkish negotiations. However, the foreign office spokesman said, the written copy merely used the general term "discussions."

He said Britain would not object to multilateral negotiations but would object to revisions of the Montreux Convention, which governs control of the straits, without the consent of other powers.

The spokesman added that the foreign office was studying the note and may consult with the American state department before elaborating its position.

Fewer But Larger Hospitals Urged In United States

Establishment Of 195,000 Additional Hospital Beds Also Is Recommended

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—(INS)—An independent commission on hospital care recommended today that the United States should have approximately 40 percent fewer, but larger, hospitals.

The commission, in a report prepared for presentation to the opening session of the 48th annual convention of the American Hospital Association, also recommended establishment of 195,000 additional general hospital beds.

One quarter of the nation's existing 503,000 general hospital beds, the report said, should be replaced because they are "obsolete or otherwise unsatisfactory."

The commission said also that the cost of adding 39 per cent more general hospital beds would amount to approximately one billion 800 million dollars.

Many present small hospitals, convalescent and nursing homes and communicable disease hospitals should be scrapped, the report continued, and replaced by larger and more comprehensive facilities.

A commission spokesman said that if the recommendations were carried out some $375 million would be added yearly to the nation's hospital bill for care of acute general illness, which now amounts to more than one billion dollars annually.

MORALE SURVEY GROUP URGES ALL IN STATE TO VOTE

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Pennsylvania voters were urged today by the Citizens' Morale Survey, an independent group, to participate in the general election November 5.

A statement entitled "are you a stayaway?" released at Harrisburg showed that an average of 1,142,384 registered voters failed to exercise their right of franchise at elections between 1930 and 1944.

The survey reported that 70 per cent of the "stayaway" voters were women and 88 per cent church members.

Younger Slant On The Town

October... Hallowe'en and cider, golden bronze leaves and bonfires. Dorothy Paulini and Hop Kuttlesch... Dot and Hop haven't set a definite date because they aren't sure when they can move into their apartment, what with all of the painting and papering that has to be done... the wedding will definitely be in October, however.

This is the best month of the year for hay rides, so a gang of kids from Mahoningtown have decided... their outing will be Saturday night.

The machine age isn't all as smooth as the old time which caused the trouble... some Harlansburg kids used a tractor instead of a team of horses to pull their hay-wagon, and got a flat tire... now they aren't so sure the gas buggies are going to last.

Gil Cox and Phil Phelps are among the students who resume their classes at Westminster on Wednesday... they made the most of their vacations, though, like the evening they were at Yankee Lake with June Warnock (Mrs. Gil Cox) and Irene Day, Phil's fiancée... When he didn't get home by Friday evening, Ralph Hughes' aunt and uncle gave up seeing him until after the week end, at least... so Ralph walks in Monday morning... he is on terminal leave right now, but stayed in Chicago long enough to go to a buddy's wedding... Ralph had 13 months in the Merchant Marine before entering the U. S. Marine Corps 15 months ago... he was in the First Marine Division.

Ralph Stokes is home, too, but just from boot camp at Bainbridge. Jim Snow, Harold Capitola, Rollie Akers, Jack Rose, and Dick Bender were all home until Monday... Ralph pulled in as they were leaving, and has until October 8... all of the fellows will be transferred to outgoing units... once aboard ship, Ralph is going to try for "electrician's mate"...

Jack McCullough has gone back to school... Waynesburg college, Waynesburg, Pa. If you're the sympathetic type, or even if you aren't, you could send a little sympathy in Norman Buckingham's direction... just as he was ready to leave for Clarion State Teacher's College, he got sick... he's been ill for about three weeks and is in the hospital for a couple of days now... besides not feeling so well, Bucky is going to lose out on his first semester at school... and he had gone clear to Clarion to pay his tuition already.

If the twirlers and the bandmen have their way, there's going to be a full-grown Greyhound bus out on the football field a week from Friday night... wait and see...

More kids up in Cleveland are George Gardner, going to law school according to reports from New Castle kids who have met him... Georgiana Truby and Hazel Ann Mark are working there too.

When the News photographer snapped a picture of the U. S. Marine band at the Cathedral Saturday night, it was the third time he had done so... a former Marine himself, he had made a picture of the famous bandmen for the service paper at Cherry Point, and had also taken newsreel shots of them.

Florence Sochia confused a lot of her friends by switching her wedding date from October 1 to October 5... it will definitely be October 5, she says... and that statement settles the matter...

HARVEST PROSPECT IN BRITAIN BETTER

LONDON, Oct. 1.—British farmers gained new hope today for salvaging at least part of their harvest as Britons "Indian summer" continued.

The temperature reached 80 degrees at Brighton yesterday for the resort's warmest day of the year, while thermometers throughout Britain recorded mid-summer temperatures.

Weather experts predicted the warm spell would continue, allowing farmers to go on harvesting crops which have been heavily hit by freak storms and the wettest, coldest summer in 30 years.

More than 50 per cent destruction of crops has been reported in some areas.

Fifty Injured In Rioting At Movie Studios

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Forty veterans and 10 deputy sheriffs were injured today, some seriously, in an outbreak of rioting at MGM studios.

The veterans, members and sympathizers of the striking conference of studio unions, began a demonstration in the street in front of the studio's south entrance.

Sheriff Eliscu ordered them to disperse. They refused and 150 of Biscailuz deputies charged the demonstrators with drawn night sticks.

The veterans, estimated to number between 1200 and 1600, fought the deputies with fists, clubs and bottles.

The fighting is now ranging along the entire block-long south entrance to MGM.

The sheriff's office in Los Angeles announced it was rushing tear gas to the strike scene in response to a request from the embattled deputies.

Bandits Seize Supply Of Drugs

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 1.—(INS)—Police and federal narcotic agents today sought two armed bandits who held up two employees of the Goodwin Wholesale Drug company and escaped with between $400 and $500 worth of morphine.

The drug bandits walked into the plant and taped Henry Ames and John O'Leary and then rifled the narcotics cabinet.

The two men freed themselves and notified police.

Court Justices Caught In Strike

Pittsburgh's Hotel Strike Catches Dignified Justices Off Their Guard

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Pittsburgh's hotel strike may force a number of Pennsylvania's supreme court justices to the menial task of making beds.

Chief Justice George W. Maxey and Justices Marion D. Patterson and Horace Stern were trapped on the upper floors of one of the strike-bound hostilities.

Justice Patterson disclosed that he has his "ham and eggs" this morning in one of the small corner restaurants not closed by the strikes. He also indicated he probably will have to make his own bed, adding, "I'll just have to stick it out."

Justices William B. Linn and Alvin M. Stearns were staying at the Duquesne club, unaffected by the strike, and Justices Charles A. Jones and James B. Drew are native Pittsburghers.

Baby Crop Breaks Records Here Again

Jameson Memorial Hospital Reports 137 Babies Born During September For New High

August's record number of births at the Jameson Memorial hospital here was topped by the figures for September, C. R. Youngquist, administrator announced today, a new all-time high figure of 137 being noted.

When 134 babies were born at the hospital last month, an abnormally high number, it was thought there might be something freakish about the sudden activity of the long-billed bird, but he really outdid himself again last month.

Records were broken during the last three months, July's figure of 108 being a new record, but it didn't last long. October is expected to prove just as phenomenal, according to one of the city's leading baby doctors, his schedule being exceedingly heavy.

Three sets of twins were included in the figures for October.

Warns Liberals Of New Challenge

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Sen. Joseph H. Ball (R., Minn.) maintained today that the liberals of America must awake to face "the most dangerous challenge to freedom since the magna charta was wrested from King John."

In a speech to the annual Blue Cross conference, Sen. Ball asserted: "I am convinced that the current attempt of the authoritarians to steal the banner of liberalism and substitute complete economic security instead of individual freedom and opportunity as its primary goal, is the gravest danger we face today."

"A significant fact, which many of us forgot during our wartime cooperation with communist Russia," the senator said, "is that both the fascist and Nazi dictatorships grew out of the political left." He added: "Communists and fascists are alike in their devotion to the proposition that 'the end justifies the means.' To a liberal, means must always be as important as ends. Neither can be destructive of individual freedom."

HIGHWAYS are not SPEEDWAYS!

Speed—the nation's mania to get there quicker, or beat the other fellow to it, is our greatest menace of the highways. One out of three accidents is caused by unsafe speeding.

Even with 50,000 fewer, but older, cars on the roads auto traffic accidents are increasing at an alarming rate. In Pennsylvania 597 people were killed in the first four months of this year. This is an increase of 81.5% over a like period in 1945.

It's high time for every person who sits behind a wheel to take this matter personally. There are definite speed limits in Pennsylvania based on traffic and population conditions. These laws are made to be obeyed—and will be enforced by our State and local Police Forces.

Pennsylvania is out to reduce death and maiming from automobile accidents. Your part is to cooperate by driving within the safe speed limits at all times.

Church Delegates Move To Johnstown As Hotels Strike

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—(INS)—More than 1000 delegates to the Woman's Missionary Society of the United Lutheran Church of America began arriving in Pittsburgh today for their annual convention—but had no place to stay or hold meetings.

Pittsburgh's hotel strike struck with such suddenness last night that hotel officials did not have time to warn the church people to remain at home.

Officials decided to shift the convention to the Zion Lutheran church in Johnstown.

Mrs. C. W. Baker of Duquesne, vice president of the National Society, said she was trying to reach delegates already on their way from California and Canada, to head them to Johnstown.

Seek To Get Full Vote Of Strikers In Power Tieup

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Pittsburgh civic groups today named a five-man committee to personally contact the Duquesne Light company's independent union strike committee with an appeal to call off the crippling power strike.

If that fails, the five-man committee was ordered to make a personal appeal to each of the union's 3500 members.

At the same time, the group adopted a motion calling upon radio and newspapers to start a drive to urge all the union members to vote in any of the union's future strike meetings.

In previous meetings, never more than half of the 3500 members voted on any of the important issues, the group claimed.

U. N. Will Spend $155,000,000 For Care Of Refugees

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 1.—(INS)—The United Nations were set to spend $155,000,000 on the care of war refugees—primarily children—during the year 1947.

A week-end compromise between the United States, Russia and Great Britain made possible the establishment of an international relief organization to succeed UNRRA, which expires progressively between Dec. 31, 1946, and June 1947.

In advance of the final vote of the UN economic and social council, it appeared that the relief activities would be held to a maximum of three more years, with the overall budget agreed upon annually.

Up to today, the prospects for a continuation of refugee relief had not been overly bright, largely because member governments of the United Nations did not want to spend their own money.

Originally, the economic council had been asked to approve a 1947 budget of $258,000,000. This afternoon a finance committee, inspired by the Anglo-American-Russian talks over the week end, was going to suggest that $155,000,000 would be sufficient.

Fiorella La Guardia, head of the expiring UNRRA and former mayor of New York, made a surprise visit to the economic council chamber with a demand that first attention be given to refugee children.

Before La Guardia got recognition, the bulk of the council debate had been confined to temporarily adequate treatment of war orphans.

80 PCT. OF CROPS

MOSCOW, Oct. 1.—Soviet agricultural officials announced today that more than 80 per cent of the nation's grain and leguminous crops were harvested by September 20. This included 165 million acres of grain on collective farms and peasant farmsteads.

It was also disclosed that the winter wheat planting is well under way in the Southern Ukraine, and Stavropol regions.

Clock and watch manufacturing in this country is still concentrated in Connecticut and Massachusetts.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 1.—(INS)—With the cameras finally rolling merrily today on M-G-M's all-out production of "Green Dolphin Street," a lot of credit for its realism should go to a normally unsung movie-maker named Malcolm Brown.

Metro plunked down $200,000 for Elizabeth Goudge's best seller, which is laid principally in the rugged lands of New Zealand 100 years ago, and the studio certainly wanted the best scenery available for the massive outdoor scenes.

Brown, assistant to Art Director Cedric Gibbons, was assigned to a 15,000-mile trek for the best possible location short of New Zealand itself. He finally found it 1000 miles from Hollywood, in virgin territory among the giant redwoods of the Klamath river country of northern California.

Only the Start

That, however, was only the start. Eight weeks before the cast—Lana Turner, Van Heflin, Donna Reed, Richard Hart and Frank Morgan—reported for work, workmen attacked the wilderness area selected.

Five acres were cleared of redwoods and wild blackberry bushes. Maori native huts were erected on the banks of the Klamath. A ferry system was devised to haul thousands of dollars worth of movie equipment safely across the gnarled waters of the river, and bulldozers shaped roads out of the wilds.

Over on the opposite side of the river, a camp of 50 canvas-walled camps sprang up to house the film company of 150 people, headed by Producer Carey Wilson and Director Victor Saville. These two made three pre-shooting plane trips to the northern site to inspect the preparations.

Tents Are Shipped

Large tents were shipped to serve as makeup and wardrobe departments, a GI-style building served as kitchen, hospital, mess hall and shower room, and five miles of telephone wire was strung to nearby Klamath to keep the camp in daily touch with Hollywood.

Adjoining the camp, the bulldozers leveled out a small landing strip. Don Clauson, an ex-navy pilot, experienced in landing on carrier decks, popped on and off the brief strip daily to pick up each day's exposed film and fly it to Medford, Ore. There it was put aboard an airliner for Hollywood—and was viewed by studio executives sometimes as early as 9 a. m. the day after it was shot.

M-G-M, of course, has no intention of risking this rather sizeable investment only to have a lot of worldly movie-goers complain that it doesn't look like New Zealand. Before the site was approved they had George Rangli Bennett, a captain in the famed Maori battalion of World War II, and part Maori himself flown the 6000 miles from Wellington, N. C. to act as technical advisor for the filming of all New Zealand scenes.

Canol Inquiry Is Completed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(INS)—The Senate Kilgore Committee wound up its canal inquiry Monday with a tentative decision to "put blots on the records" of all four members of the wartime joint chiefs of staff for their 1943 approval of the ill-fated 134 million dollar project.

As the hearing closed, Admiral Ernest J. King, former chief of naval operations, was angrily assailing the committee as having "willfully distorted the facts" by singling him out for criticism in connection with the joint chiefs approval of the project.

At one point Sen. Kilgore (D) W. Va., the new chairman of the war investigating committee that President Truman once headed, exclaimed:

"I'm perfectly willing to blame this mess on the whole bunch!"

The State Police Say:

Night-time accidents involving vehicles stopped or stalled on the highway are quite common in rural areas. In many of these accidents, the rear light was burned out, covered with dirt or obstructed from view by a motorist repairing a tire. It is important for motorists to check rear lights of their cars periodically to keep them clean and unobstructed at night. During the hours of darkness motorists should make a special effort to park completely off the improved portion of the highway.

Chairman Richards To Make Response To Truman's Speech

New Castle Campaign For $88,800 Goal Will Be Launched

On October 14

Howard B. Richards, chairman of the local Community Chest campaign, will respond to President Truman's radio speech on behalf of Community Chests on WKST at 10:30 this evening.

President Truman will urge support of the Community Chests and their 10,000 Red Feather services in a broadcast over the 745 American radio stations included in the combined facilities of the four major networks.

The local campaign, which will start on October 14, has a goal of $88,800 for the support of 12 local social and welfare agencies. The goal is the highest ever needed for strictly local needs, but is slightly less than was raised last year, which included an amount for certain war agencies.

Thirty-five group chairmen have been appointed by General Chairman Richards, and plans are rapidly taking shape for a rousing kickoff on October 14.

Court Refuses To Block Removal Of Wanted Witness

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Supreme Court Justice Harold O. Burton refused to block the removal of Charles F. Hemans from Washington to Michigan where he is wanted as a witness in a legislative bribery case.

Hemans sought a stay of removal from the District of Columbia to Michigan under "fugitive witness" law proceedings, contesting the federal grounds that it was a status encroachment on state powers.

The District of Columbia court of appeals earlier refused to hear Hemans' appeal from a lower court denial of a writ of habeas corpus, holding that such denial was not appealable.

Justice Burton, in sustaining the lower court, said he had given "full consideration" to the policy of Congress and the supreme court on the purpose of removal proceedings and on that basis could find no justification for granting the stay.

Hemans asked the stay "for a reasonable time" to give him a chance to file a petition for review of legality of the law under which he is being returned to Michigan.

Military Heads Crack Down On All 'Loose Talk'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Military chiefs revealed today that they have cracked down on "loose talk" by subordinates as a peace-time security measure.

Top-ranking war department officials indicated that they were apprehensive that the army's "top secret" stamp has been used too little since the war ended.

Among the high army officers protesting "revelations" regarding secret weapons were Maj. Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, army air force director of research and development, and Leslie R. Groves, chief of the atom bomb project.

Lemay said that "there have been serious breaches of security," his elaboration on this statement was not for publication.

Groves previously expressed the opinion that "entirely too much has been said about the atom bomb," maintaining that security has been violated.

It was disclosed that an order has been issued "from the top" in the air forces that only officers of general staff level are authorized to talk with news representatives on subjects which might have a bearing on national security.

TOTEM POLES ARE SENT TO DENVER

PHILADELPHIA—The two totem poles which have graced the rear entrance of the University museum since they were brought to this city in 1939 from the San Francisco exposition, yesterday began a journey to the Denver Art Museum. They will be suitably exhibited in a new building there.

The poles were originally purchased for erection in Fairmount park, but were turned over to the local museum when the park commissioners deemed them unsuitable for the park. Since then they have been standing at the rear entrance to the museum because of the lack of space to display them inside.

Capacity Crowd Will See Cards And Dodgers Battle Today

Pollett-Branca Slated To Start Important Series

Pot Of Gold Series Will Be Exciting, Cards Favored To Win

SECOND GAME AT BROOKLYN THURSDAY

By CHARLES EISENBERG
(International News Service Sports Editor)
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 1.—A Big League pennant race went into extra innings for the first time in history today as the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers, having ended the regular season of the National League in a tie, launched their playoff fight for the world series pot of gold.

A capacity throng of 34,200 was booked for St. Louis Sportsman's Park and today's first in the best two-out-of-three set, which stood as a unique overture to the world series.

At Brooklyn Thursday
Today's game will be followed by another in Brooklyn Thursday, and, if needed, a deciding clash in Brooklyn on Friday.

The world series itself will start on the home field of the ultimate national circuit pennant winner on Sunday.

But even today, the spectre of the Boston Red Sox, fresh and powerful in the role of American League champion, hung over the battle ground as Joe Cronin's players, triumphant after 28 years of toil, awaited their belated cue.

Cardinals Favored
The Cardinals, only too aware of the brinks attendant upon a botched series such as this League playoff, stood slightly favored over Brooklyn in the betting odds.

St. Louis won 14 of its 22 engagements with the Dodgers during the regular 154-game season, which ended Sunday with the Cards and Brooklyn at 96 victories and 58 defeats apiece.

Angering well for their chances today, the Cards won eight of the 11 games played between the clubs in St. Louis.

The Cards took six out of the 11 games played at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn.

However, the wear and tear of the nerve-racking deadlock finish and the unpredictable manner in which both teams have played over the season may throw all theories on the scrap heap.

Brace Vs. Pollett
Pitching nominations for all-important first game remained uncertain right down to game time.

But Brooklyn Manager Leo Durocher could almost be relied upon to start tall right-hander, a right-hander who rejoined the Dodgers toward the end of the season and furnished a win and lost record of 3 and 0.

One of Branca's stellar jobs was a shutout at the expense of the Cardinals during the last Brooklyn-St. Louis series in Brooklyn.

Hovie Pollett, the National League's leading slapper, with a season's record of 20 triumphs and 10 defeats, was the logical starting choice of St. Louis.

Wabash Bears To Practice Tonight
Wabash Bears grid team will practice tonight at the E. & A. field in Mahoningtown in preparation for their game with the Sher Tailors of Youngstown, scheduled for this Sunday at the Ohio City.

All members of the squad are asked to report promptly at 5 p. m. and anyone wishing to join the team is requested to be present at the session.

Young High School Griddier Dies From Injury To Kidney

DOWNINGTOWN, Pa., Oct. 1.—(INS)—Joseph W. Jeffers, 17-year-old Downingtown high school football player, succumbed Monday to injuries received during a scrimmage last Wednesday.

The youth died following an emergency operation Monday morning for a kidney injury.

Jeffers, a senior, walked home from the scrimmage, apparently not realizing he had been hurt seriously. Wednesday night, however, he became ill and his condition steadily grew worse.

He was removed to Chester county hospital in West Chester where he died. His team played its first game on Saturday, losing to St. Patrick's high school of Norristown, 25-0. Jeffers was a substitute lineman.

Juniata Prepares For Titan Battle

Juniata Indians Will Play Westminster Saturday At Farrell Hi Field

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Oct. 1.—No predictions are forthcoming, but the picture is brighter than at any time in the past decade at Juniata College where Mike Snider is carrying his 1946 football combination for its opening with Westminster at Farrell, Pa., next Saturday.

With a "bumper crop" of freshmen dominating Juniata's history, Snider discovered in last week's scrimmage season that his first-year men.

Fourteen freshmen were in the starting lineups of the two teams in Saturday's "regulation" scrimmage at College Hill.

Have Fine Backfield
Snider has settled on the line-up for the opening game, but he is considering at least eight backs with varying degrees of experience. Three are freshmen. Working as one unit Saturday were Jim Kaufman, Wayneboro freshman; Chuck Burgesstock, Zelenople senior; Bill Shiver, Coalport sophomore; and Don Everhart, Wood sophomore.

In addition, Ken Grote, sophomore quarterback from Latrobe, and Johnny Henderson, a Windber freshman who played for Georgia Pre-Flight while in service, have been impressive and may draw starting assignments.

Lansdale's Sam Woffindin, reserve fullback on the Indians' last club in 1942, scored one of the two touchdowns for the "Brown" team in Saturday's scrimmage and undoubtedly will action along with Jim Houck, 143-pound scat-back from Wood.

Feller All-Stars
Satchel Paige's boys held the big leaguers to two hits to win a 3 to 1 verdict in the first game of the extensive tour. Satchel and Feller opposed each other on the mound for three innings. Paige whiffed four and gave up a single, while Feller struck out three and was nipped for two doubles.

Viljo Heino, Finnish running star, has set a new foot-mile running record. He covered the route in 18 minutes, 57 seconds. Iso Holo set the old mark, 19:01, in 1933.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

MAY not be long until one walks into a shoe store and asks for "fish skin shoes", it being reported that fish, of which Alaska, has an abundance are about to yield their skins to a new industry, leather. The tanned skins of fish are now being converted, in a factory at Juneau, into shoes, handbags, belts, book-ends covers, watch fobs and other articles. The skin, according to the Pennsylvania Angler, is about the only part of a fish that has not been used commercially. . . . According to reports from the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association, the traps will be ready and ranges prepared for the shooters, Saturday, when the 1946 Field day will be held. . . . Mercer County farmer reports having seen a buck, two does and a couple of fawns along the Shenango, recently. . . . It would be nice if Lawrence County became the home of a lake built and stocked by the state. . . . "More fishermen, fish for carp than any other species and it is the wildest of all fish found in our waters," Johnny Mock, Pittsburgh Press reporter. . . . Nick George, former attaché of St. Vitus basketball team, now with the 15th Constabulary squadron has been transferred to Bremerhaven and hopes to be home before the football season ends. . . . He played with the troop football team which won 10 games and lost one. . . . Jimmie, son of Bill Jolly, has entered the Marines and is at Parris Island, having left Saturday. . . . Sugar Robinson and Ossie Harris mix blows October 7 in Pittsburgh. If Robinson is hustled and had to cut loose, Ossie will find himself in a tighter position than he is at present. . . . According to a report from the east, the Empire State boxing solons may take an unprecedented move and declare Robinson, the welterweight champion, Marty Servo having vacated the title when he quit boxing.

Farrell board of education is weighing the possibility of floating a bond issue for the erection of a 10,000 seat new stadium. . . . Tommy Greb, lightweight, winner of 44 of 45 fights, hopes to take the New England crown from Florent Desmarais, at Boston, October 7. . . . While here, Johnny Papke, ex-middleweight of Cleveland, and who, unfortunately, has only one eye, told Here & There why the late Harry Greb adopted a wind-mill style of boxing. Johnny said: "Greb told me, he was minus vision in one eye and by throwing punches from every angle to all directions all the time, he was sure to hit an opponent. . . . Joe Burke, lightweight, who boxed around here years ago had only one good eye and Terry Mitchell, a middleweight, who also fought 'out of this city' also suffered an injury that cost the sight in one eye which proves that, a person who hopes to become a fighter should weigh the risk and determine if the compensation is commensurate with such a serious injury. . . . Injuries are apt to occur in any sport, as the accident report in baseball will show. . . . No doubt muskrat trapping will again occur along local creeks this winter. . . . According to Jim Houck, the outdoorsman of Harlansburg, an Opossum can wrap its tail around a tree trunk as easily as a snake can coil it. . . . The Opossum has a scaly, prehensile tail. . . . The Bucs have purchased Outfielder Wally Westlake of the Oakland club, Pacific league. He hit .315. . . . Dick Hanley is out as head coach of the Chi-Rockets and Ernie Nevers, one-time Stanford All-American, his assistant, may replace him. . . . Champion horses have no more peculiarities or quirks of nature than do most equines, according to Margery Miller, the girl sports scribe. Their greatness is neither the cause nor result of special care or special food. . . . Bob Bell's All-Stars play Satchel Paige and his colored major loop All-Stars this afternoon at Youngstown.

Having seen Tony Zale, aged and long-side middleweight champion, stop the "Rock-a-by-Baby" Graziano in six rounds, Gene Tunney, who knows, remarked: "Zale gave the greatest exhibition of heart I have ever seen. . . . Topped by the rugged, hard-hitting Rocky, Zale got up from the floor to take punishment, yet despite a broken right hand, let it fly to a steel-like body to pave the way for his left knockout hook. It takes courage to punch with a broken hand, especially one with a "green stick" break. Dr. George Jones, who was in The News when the I. N. S. Miller, the girl sports scribe, was asked as to how painful a "green stick" break could be. He replied: "Very painful." He also drew a diagram of what constitutes a "green stick" break. Zale is 32, and like Joe Louis, relegated to the rear of the book, the ancient phrase, that "Youth will be served." However, Zale's age is against his continuance indefinitely as middleweight champion. Graziano is only 24. There is no question but that they will meet a second time. No doubt it will be another good fight and further stimulate boxing, in view of the debacle of Billy Conn and the easy win by Louis over Tami Mauriello. . . . There comes to Here & There today from Secretary D. H. Porter, LCSA, a letter: Dear Eddie: We of the LCSA are much pleased to learn Jack Gerson has taken such an interest in pleasant rearing and his assistance is much appreciated, as well as that of other sportsmen who have, and are yet raising pheasants. Let us hope some bands are turned in. Walter Ringer, Lakewood, also banded his birds before they were released by committee-men appointed for this work." Mr. Porter said that all birds reared here have now been stocked and tonight LCSA directors and trustees will meet at Bob Lamore's home to discuss plans for the Field day, October 5, at the Harbor which should attract thousands of men, women and children.

Ray And Walcott Bout Arranged
NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Promoter Mike Jacobs today began a heavyweight buildup designed to produce an indoor opponent eventually for champion Joe Louis by matching Elmer (Violent) Ray, of Minneapolis, with Jimmy Joe Walcott, Camden, N. J., veteran.

Ray will be the favorite by virtue of his recent knockout string, including Lee Savold. Walcott was outpointed in an upset by Joey Maxim, of Cleveland, recently.

Chapman has insisted that fight into them and made them a feared club in the National League where they used to be regarded as so many clowns. He confidently predicts a first division club in the next season or two—which would be a radical departure from Phillies baseball in recent years.

Chapman was a winning ball player in his major and minor league days and became a pitcher finally to land with the Phillies and be on hand when they suddenly looked up and decided they had to have a manager.

Hired On Impulse
Heb Pennock, the general manager of the club, called Chapman in "this was last season" and said: "Do you think you can run this ball club?"

Chapman said there was no doubt in his mind about it and Pennock said simply: "You're the manager."

From the looks of things the Phillies got a bargain. They at least got hustle and smart leadership and Chapman plans to improve as he goes along. He probably would be the first to confess that he is no John McGraw yet, but he's no dope either and he will be ready when the ball club is for those better days.

They're not far off. He has done wonders with a spotty club this season. After getting away to a bad start the club began to go and for a time in recent weeks has been a pushover.

One of the specialties of field day to be held by the Lawrence County Sportsman's association at the Harbor, Saturday, will be a display and exhibition of muzzle loading firearms. These guns show amazing accuracy over the shorter ranges, according to Muzzle Blast, official publication for old time guns.

Zale-Graziano Rematch Signed

Mike Jacobs Will Stage Rematch At Madison Square Garden March 21

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The Tony Zale-Rocky Graziano battle which kept 40,000 spectators on their feet for six rounds at Yankee stadium last Friday night will play an encore on the Madison Square Garden boards as the highlights of the winter season.

Zale has agreed to another defense of his middleweight title against the tough young New Yorker who came so close to lifting the crown in their previous match before Zale caught up with him and stretched him for keeps in the sixth.

March 21 Date
Promoter Mike Jacobs has signed the battle for March 21 and Zale meantime will engage only in over-the-weight engagements after his injured hand has healed.

The title-holder, who shook off Graziano's famed punches and kept coming in for more until he had scored his knockout, fought from the middle of the second round on with a broken right thumb and currently wears a cast.

However, the injury will be healed in a few weeks and he will attain top condition in a series of bouts outside New York. Graziano also will probably meet one or two opponents as part of a rebuilding program.

Zale Favorite
The latter will be an underdog against Zale in their return and thus for the first time since he hit the top tail to go in with odds riding on him.

Those who saw Zale bend him over with a right hand smash to the stomach, then topple him with a left almost certainly will string along with him in the 15-round encore.

Ben Chapman Has Made Good

Former Yankee Star Outfielder Now Manager Of Hustling Phillies

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—This is a bow in the general direction of Ben Chapman.

He is a big-square-shouldered guy who smokes a pipe and during his baseball playing days he was known as a hellion. He was about as good an outfielder as you would care to look at. He could go far and wide for drives into his territory and he could hit and run the bases.

Finally the Yankees traded him away, and he wound up eventually in the minors, from which he was banished for punching an umpire.

Is Good Manager
He is the manager of the Philadelphia Phillies now, as everybody knows, but he no longer has any doubts, and currently is rated among the most promising pilots in the business.

Chapman has insisted that fight into them and made them a feared club in the National League where they used to be regarded as so many clowns. He confidently predicts a first division club in the next season or two—which would be a radical departure from Phillies baseball in recent years.

Chapman was a winning ball player in his major and minor league days and became a pitcher finally to land with the Phillies and be on hand when they suddenly looked up and decided they had to have a manager.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 1.—(INS)—The Louisville Colonels hold a 2 to 1 edge in the little world series today as they move to Montreal for a resumption of the best four-out-of-seven games with the Royals, International league champions.

The American Association title holders crushed the Royals last night, 15 to 6, drubbing six Montreal pitchers before 14,000 fans with a barrage of 19 hits.

Conn Is Sincere In Asking Third Bout With Louis

Asks Mike Jacobs To Get Him Louis Again, Will Fight For Charity

FRIENDS CHIDE PITTSBURGH KID

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—Billy Conn's determination to meet Joe Louis for the third time was brought about by a combination of his own pride and the needling of his friends.

Ed Kieley, International News Service sports writer in Pittsburgh presents the following tableaux on exactly what went on when Conn phoned Promoter Mike Jacobs and offered to fight Louis free of charge.

Ribbed By Friends
Kieley points out that the charity angle probably will be altered slightly in Conn's behalf in the event the match takes place.

However, here is the way it came about:

Some of Conn's friends are loafing in a Pittsburgh hotel room, when Bill walks in.

First friend: "Hy ya, Billy. We were just talking about you and wondering how you felt when you listened to the Louis-Mauriello fight."

Conn: "I knew Tami was a goner when he failed to get Joe with that first punch—and I was wishing all the time I was in there again."

Second friend: "Gwan. You had two chances and you were scared stiff last time. You wouldn't fight him again."

Conn: "You're daffy. I never was afraid in the ring in my life and I never made but one bad fight in my life—that was it. I'm not afraid of nobody."

Call Jacobs Up
First friend: "That's big talk, but don't get me that ear-banging. Ear-banging somebody who can do something about it."

Conn: "Who's that?"

First friend: "There is the phone. Call Mike Jacobs. That's who. He can put you back in with Louis."

Conn grabs the telephone and puts in a call for Jacobs New York office.

First friend: "He's not going to ask for a fight, but an invitation to Mike's home down on the Jersey shore."

Conn: "I'll fight Louis again any time, any place and for no dough, just for the chance to fight him my way."

For Sweet Charity
Second friend: "That's a great idea. Tell Mike you'll fight for charity. That'll give you a chance to prove that the sports writers were wrong. They said you froze up in that last fight."

Conn, talking in the phone: "Listen, Uncle Mike. I want a fight Joe again. I wanta prove I didn't quit last time. I never quit to anybody and I never made a bad fight before. I listened to too many people last time. Everybody says stay away from him and you know what happened. He didn't run out of gas. I wanta fight him my way again, like I did the first time. You can have my end of the purse for charity. I don't care what he does with his end. You can let everybody in for nothing."

Conn listens for a few minutes, then says: "I'll be seeing you," and hangs up.

May Battle Mauriello
Conn: "Mike says to come down next week and we'll talk it over."

So Conn will be coming to New York anytime now to talk over a third fight with Louis as part of the buildup for next winter and summer.

The word is around now to the effect that a Conn-Mauriello match is in the making, with the winner to meet the survivor of a tournament and the ultimate survivor to be thrown in with the Bomber.

No matter how they cut it, they'll still come up with limburger.

Conn Is Sincere In Asking Third Bout With Louis

Asks Mike Jacobs To Get Him Louis Again, Will Fight For Charity

FRIENDS CHIDE PITTSBURGH KID

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—Billy Conn's determination to meet Joe Louis for the third time was brought about by a combination of his own pride and the needling of his friends.

Ed Kieley, International News Service sports writer in Pittsburgh presents the following tableaux on exactly what went on when Conn phoned Promoter Mike Jacobs and offered to fight Louis free of charge.

Ribbed By Friends
Kieley points out that the charity angle probably will be altered slightly in Conn's behalf in the event the match takes place.

However, here is the way it came about:

Some of Conn's friends are loafing in a Pittsburgh hotel room, when Bill walks in.

First friend: "Hy ya, Billy. We were just talking about you and wondering how you felt when you listened to the Louis-Mauriello fight."

Conn: "I knew Tami was a goner when he failed to get Joe with that first punch—and I was wishing all the time I was in there again."

Second friend: "Gwan. You had two chances and you were scared stiff last time. You wouldn't fight him again."

Conn: "You're daffy. I never was afraid in the ring in my life and I never made but one bad fight in my life—that was it. I'm not afraid of nobody."

Call Jacobs Up
First friend: "That's big talk, but don't get me that ear-banging. Ear-banging somebody who can do something about it."

Conn: "Who's that?"

First friend: "There is the phone. Call Mike Jacobs. That's who. He can put you back in with Louis."

Conn grabs the telephone and puts in a call for Jacobs New York office.

First friend: "He's not going to ask for a fight, but an invitation to Mike's home down on the Jersey shore."

Conn: "I'll fight Louis again any time, any place and for no dough, just for the chance to fight him my way."

For Sweet Charity
Second friend: "That's a great idea. Tell Mike you'll fight for charity. That'll give you a chance to prove that the sports writers were wrong. They said you froze up in that last fight."

Conn, talking in the phone: "Listen, Uncle Mike. I want a fight Joe again. I wanta prove I didn't quit last time. I never quit to anybody and I never made a bad fight before. I listened to too many people last time. Everybody says stay away from him and you know what happened. He didn't run out of gas. I wanta fight him my way again, like I did the first time. You can have my end of the purse for charity. I don't care what he does with his end. You can let everybody in for nothing."

Decision Of Lower Court Is Reversed

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Reversing a decision of the lower court, the State Supreme court today held that the state act regulating the sale of property by Orphans court as constitutional.

In a case involving the sale of the property of the estate of Elizabeth D. Brereton, the court decided that Orphans court is prohibited from reopening a sale of property to accept an offer of a higher bidder.

In the Brereton case, the court approved the sale of the property to E. J. Carroll and C. A. Waite for $27,800. Later Henry G. Austin, who originally bid $25,000, raised his offer to $30,000 and Orphans court agreed to accept the new bid. After the Common Pleas court upheld the sale and thus ruled the act unconstitutional, Carroll and Waite carried the case to the higher court.

GIVEN APPOINTMENT

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Gen. E. J. Stackpole, of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania National Guard commander, had an appointment today from Gov. Edward Martin as a member of the State Armory Board.

Justices Marion D. Patterson and Charles A. Jones wrote dissenting opinions.
